

Telecom investments 2023

During 2023, Call.com AS has fully developed the technical platform and apps for Apple, Android, Windows and Mac, to a stage where commercial launch could start towards the end of the year. The company has also acquired 100% of UK based Vyke Holding Ltd, which remains the sales company for Vyke and white label services. Furthermore, the company has established a 100% owned subsidiary for the sale of Call.com services, Call.com Telecom Ltd.
